Our Culture of Care and Accountability

ur education at MCP is formative because it fosters the development of the whole person in all aspects of his or her life: moral formation, academic excellence, artistic sensibility, spiritual wonder, passion for justice, athletic prowess, and leadership training. These are but some of the many distinctive hallmarks of our school and what we strive to inculcate within our MCP graduates. Embracing every student as an individual person, teachers and parents engage one another in partnership to draw out the inner vitality of each student, facilitating his or her voyage of self-discovery throughout the high school years.

Academic excellence is not the end destination, but merely the beginning of our students journey at Mission College Prep. The academic and life lessons they learn here last a lifetime.

Education at a Higher Level

Our Record of Academic Accomplishment

There has never been a time in our nation's history where college admissions have been more competitive. The unparalleled quality and experience of our team of professional educators, the comprehensive support of our students, our highly-touted tutorial program, and our seamless, four-year, college placement process — all of these singular strengths promote success far beyond acceptance to a college of our students' choice.

Our Commitment to Faith and Leadership

Because we believe that faith requires committed action, our students seek the presence of God's love through leadership within our school and on behalf of our local community. Outreach opportunities focus on diverse populations, and reflect an approach to leadership that facilitates moments of discovery, all within a consistent and creative, four-year process. All of our retreats, liturgies, and service projects are student-driven and student-lead. We empower students to take initiative here at MCP in order to cultivate active engagement and real ownership of strategies that deepen our bonds together and promote responsibility in the public sphere.

Reaching higher levels of understanding begins with close examination of all that is possible. Mission College Prep focuses on the individual in ways that guide their actions for a lifetime.
